

Now you can be everywhere, all the time – without going anywhere.

Audability has a full range of the latest and best Conferencing, Webcasting, and Systems Integration technologies. We'll customize our services to meet your business needs, and you can rest assured your communications will be delivered as effectively and efficiently as possible.

VIDEO SERVICES

Our flexible set of Video Conferencing products allow you to enable each user, based on individual needs, while maintaining a professional experience. Bring video to anyone, at any time, with this powerful multimedia tool. Connect with all of your customers and employees to speed up your decision making process, increase productivity, and unify your organization; all with simple implementation and installation.

From ad hoc meetings to unlimited invitations through to global security, all aspects of your video needs can be supported and are included in our solutions.

GETTING STARTED

Since all endpoints start with network 'plug and play' capabilities, you can enjoy the benefits internal communications immediately while our managed and monitored infrastructure allows you to scale. Our deep partnership with Polycom allows our team of professional engineers to certify and configure your video endpoints while working within your current enterprise infrastructure.

EASE OF USE

Consistent reliability and quality is ensured with Audability's dedicated Managed Services. A dedicated video network is the best way to achieve high quality and hassle free communications, all day, every day. You receive predictable, effective communications, user friendly tools, and expert support when you need it.

THE VALUE OF INTEGRATION

Maximize your Collaboration by integrating your video with existing tools. By leveraging our expertise we can deploy synergies between our video services and your Lync or Office 365 environments. Our versatile and talented designers merge ground breaking technologies with tried and true best practices to deliver solutions to Canadian organizations such as Bank of Montreal, HollisWealth, and Gluskin Sheff & Associates. As we are certified with multiple vendors, our deep knowledge assures end user deployment and training are kept top of mind during the strategy, assessment, and design stages.

Everything is tied together by our detail orientated team, who always focus on your needs with the utmost professionalism and responsiveness. We handle all the details on the backend, so you can focus on the items that are important to you: whether it is brand integrity, consumer communication, or coordinating the next inter-departmental croquet tournament.

Every business has different requirements, with different applications and environments. An online training environment has different needs than a boardroom. We take the time to thoroughly evaluate your needs first. Then we recommend the right technology to match your exact needs.

AUDABILITY'S COLLABORATIVE COMMUNICATIONS

We help our clients collaborate more effectively with customized communication solutions.

